2010 Atwater Fall Open

October 15-17 ,2010

The Atwater Open in October turned out to be only a B, C, D but a good turn out in each division meant for a highly competitive weekend of squash.

The Men's D division was won by new comer Fredrick Perrin who turned out to be a bit of a burglar and will be playing at a pretty competitive C level for the rest of the season. Eric Theibault the losing finalist put up a good showing losing in 4 but his road to the final was a tough one winning his first round and semi final both in five games.

The Men's C final was fought out between two Atwater Club members Eric Pemberton Smith and Greg Christie with the later prevailing. Maybe now after winning numerous C divisions Greg will stop loitering in C and make the right decision and toughen up to play against the Men's B players which would be more beneficial for his game.

The Men's B draw turned out a good number with a lot of highly competitive and fierce games being played over the weekend. Louis Tremblant was too strong winning all of his games 3/0 and accounting for Sebastien Boudreau in the final.

Club Atwater has another Open event in January.
